Memorial Clocks

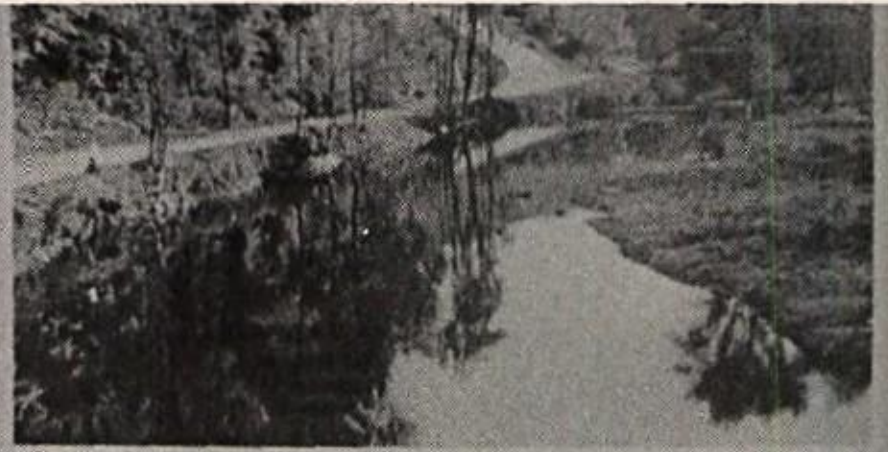

*To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:
 A time to be born, and a time to die;
 a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
 A time to kill, and a time to heal;
 a time to break down, and a time to build up;
 A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
 a time to mourn, and a time to dance;
 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;
 a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
 A time to get, and a time to lose;
 a time to keep, and a time to cast away;
 A time to rend, and a time to sew;
 a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
 A time to love, and a time to hate;
 a time of war, and a time of peace.*

Time is measured by the calendar, which measures it for a rather long duration. Time is also measured by the clock, which measures it over a shorter duration. By using time wisely, man grows in knowledge and wisdom concerning the many facets of the world around him. He learns the answers to the innumerable questions that arise in everyday living. Each school year affords him the opportune time to absorb more knowledge and wisdom.

During the span of a high school year, there is much time for many things such as laughter, happiness, friendship, hope, apprehension, wondering, thinking, working, and giving. There is also time for service, working together, excitement, play, spirit, enduring beliefs, and fellowship. There is time available for all of the things that make up life and mean something to the individual. Without allowing one's self to take the time for these things, there is no real fulfillment of the school year.

ACADEMICS

Be avaricious of time; do not give any moment without receiving it in value; only allow the hours to go from you with as much regret as you give to your gold; do not allow a single day to pass without increasing the treasure of your knowledge and virtue.

—Letourneux

Each individual is a separate facet with unique strengths . . . weaknesses . . . working . . . absorbing . . . reflecting . . . sharing . . . with the goal of common interests . . . beneficial learning. RHS offers the challenge . . . the opportunity . . . to all those who wish it.

Guidance and Library are Hub of RHS Life

MRS. BISHOP'S duties as librarian include such tasks as aiding students to locate materials in the card catalogue.

THE CAREER FILE and collection of college brochures help the counselors direct students into post-high school life.

The counseling department and the library are two spots that even the greenest freshman can locate unerringly. Mr. Gridley, Mrs. Miller, and Mr. Amick make themselves readily available to the student body. Issuing admit and release slips, planning schedules, and guiding and helping students with their problems are "all in a day's work" for these especially trained faculty members.

The more than 4,500 books in the library are cared for by Mrs. Bishop, who is assisted by student librarians. Students can get periodicals, many types of reference books, and fiction and nonfiction books. The library also includes files and materials on colleges and universities.

It is no wonder that every RHS student knows the location of these two very important places. From his first year until his last, the counseling department and the library are essential to him.

Linguists Find Variety in Romance Languages

WITH A "BONJOUR, MES AMIS" second-year French students engage in an informal course of conversational French.

Language—our own or another—is the key to understanding by communication. In English, scholars improve their reading skill and enjoy the paperback library. Speech is also a branch of English and the 1963-64 school year claims to have the largest enrollment of speech aspirants on record. Discussions, debates, and dramatic interpretations provide varied experiences.

Parlez-vous francais? If so, you are probably one of the many students who study the French language. The study of French verbs and grammar is relieved by conversational groups, French novels, and the new color-photo travel book written in French.

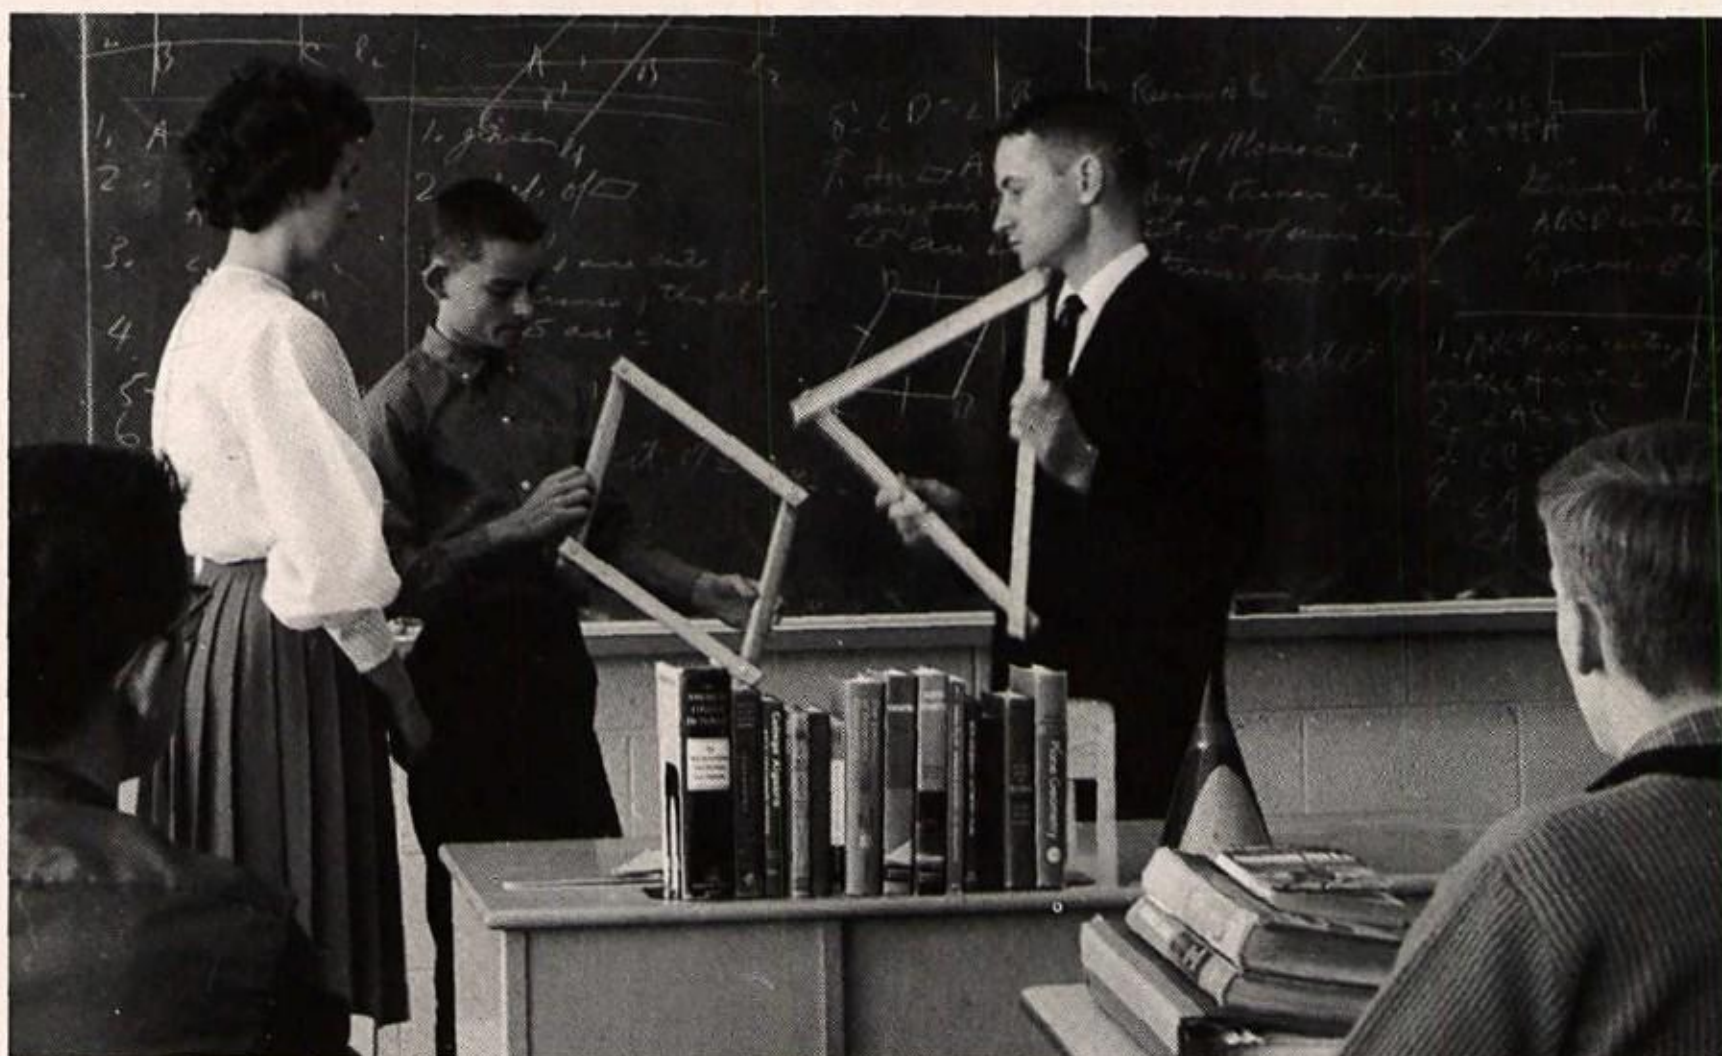

Education is mixed with fun when RHS Latin students are able to see the play JULIUS CAESAR, study ancient Rome, and view modern-day Rome through films.

Spanish students discover the beauty of Spain as they delve into the past and explore the present. Bingo played the Spanish way encourages students to develop good Spanish vocabulary.

SENIORS and sophomores were given the opportunity to increase their reading ability in the developmental reading class.

Science and Math Classes Challenge Students

"UGH" is a familiar cry coming from the biology room as students dissect assorted animals such as this crayfish.

RIGIDITY OF TRIANGLES as opposed to the rigidity of quadrilaterals is this day's lesson in geometry class.

Under the guidance of six capable instructors, science and math enthusiasts broaden their knowledge of the fundamentals of the Space Age, and develop practical skills for future vocations.

Graduation requirements in mathematics are fulfilled by algebra or general math, while braver souls venture on to the rigors of plane geometry. There they encounter Euclid's postulates, and learn to think logically through the proof process. For those interested in technical careers, advanced algebra and senior math provide an excellent background.

A well-rounded science program mixes laboratory work with lectures and textbook assignments for maximum results. Sophomores explore the inner workings of grasshoppers, frogs, and worms in biology lab, while chemistry students experiment with the newly installed semi-micro apparatus. RHS budding physicists got a "jolt" from a Leyden Jar while exploring the mysteries and functions of electricity.

Social Studies Stimulate Cultural Interests

From Thermopylae to Verdun, Sophomores learn about every battle in World History, while Juniors are dutifully reciting the Declaration of Independence and Wilson's Fourteen Points. Although only two units of Social Studies are required for graduation, many students take more of these interesting subjects.

Upon becoming a senior, the student is offered a wide variety of courses including government, sociology, economics, psychology, and geography. All seniors are required to take U. S. Government, only recently expanded to two semesters. Taught by Grayson Mahin, students learn the foundations and principals of government on the national, state, and local level. This adds to the information learned in U. S. History, a course which is required of all juniors. James Gridley, Tom Jones, Lester Blair, and Larry Kelly are instructors in this subject. Mr. Blair also teaches courses in psychology, sociology, and economics, all popular courses in this department.

"MY AT&T STOCK is up!" beams John Mosley as he and fellow econ students check the stock market reports.

AMERICAN OBSERVERS enlighten U. S. History and World History and government students on the problems of our modern world.

"Accent on Living" is Theme of Homemaking

If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, then the RHS girls are ahead in the game. In addition to acquiring the art of concocting various appetizing dishes, they learn other facets of homelife through Home-nursing, Consumer Problems, and Family Living. For those girls who wish to become especially proficient, it is possible to take three years in supplementary sewing and cooking classes.

The homemaking department is well equipped with all the tools necessary to train a neophyte in the art of preparing attractive, nutritious meals and running an efficient home. Always ready to help are two fine instructors—Mrs. Phyllis Joyce and Mrs. Mildred Myers.

The colorful and unusual displays in the showcase attract the interest of passers-by, and it is virtually impossible to ignore the tantalizing aromas coming from the cooking classes.

HOMEMAKING STUDENTS gain knowledge as well as a feeling of satisfaction in developing their culinary arts.

SEWING IN HIGH SCHOOL enables young homemakers of tomorrow to save earnings by making their own clothes.

Vocational Department Provides Job Training

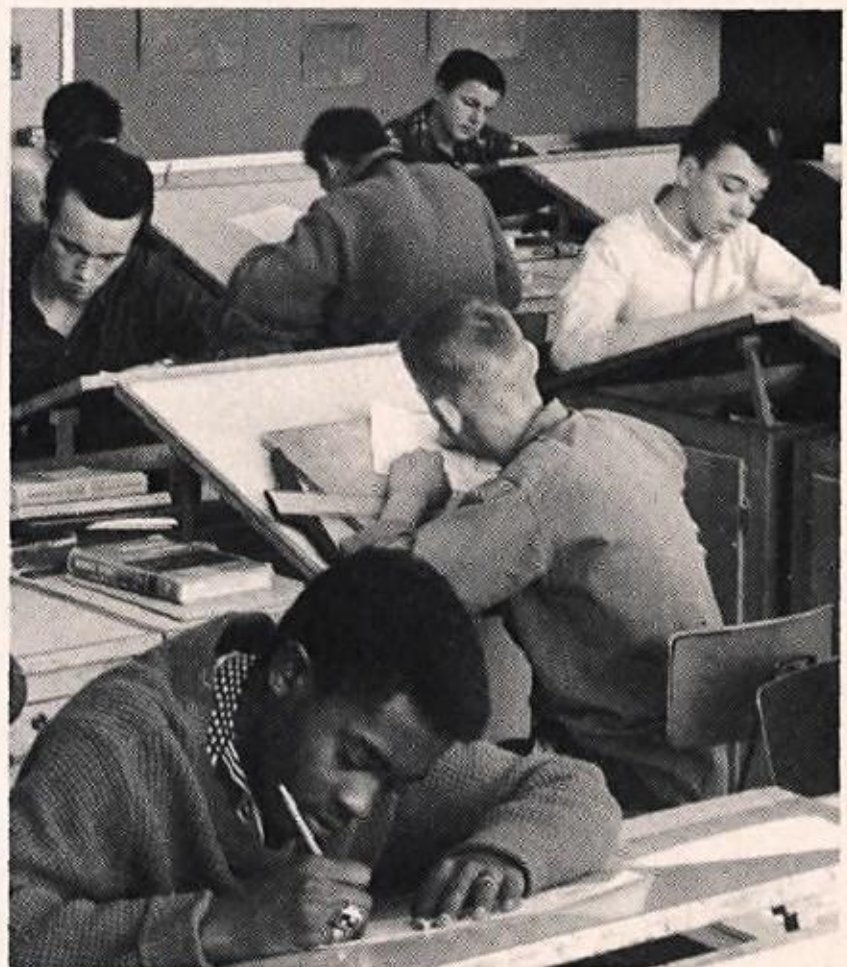

WEEDS, diseases, and insects continue to plague the farmer, so learning to identify these menaces is important.

The Industrial Arts Department gives exploratory experiences into the industrial world. Several areas of industry are open to students of RHS—drafting, design, electricity, plastics, woods, welding, metals, and power mechanics. The main objective is to provide students with introductory experience into the procedures, machines, materials, and skills of modern industry.

Ag students have a supervised program whereby they apply classroom knowledge to farm projects. These endeavors are the choice of the individual and consist of animal or crop projects. Expenses and receipts are kept for figuring farm profits. Such training is valuable to those who plan to continue in farming.

MACHINES are foreboding to some, but are very familiar to these boys who have completed training in working with metals in RHS shop classes.

WITH T-SQUARE, RULER, AND PENCIL, the mechanical drawing class embarks on a journey through blueprints.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD looks for boys who have acquired skill in working with woods in RHS industrial classes.

Commercial Arts Embody Business and Art

THESE PEOPLE aren't staring to be rude, but are only art classmates of model-for-the-day, Linda Cranfill.

A general knowledge of business principles and clerical skills can be of benefit to all students. The commercial department seems to be increasing in popularity among many students. This is because the ability to type is almost essential today in almost all facets of business, and a knowledge of good business practices can be most helpful in all phases of modern living. Under the direction of Ruth Cartmel, Richard Dragoo, and Vernon Fecher, students may choose subjects including typing, shorthand, business arithmetic, bookkeeping and accounting, secretarial office practice, office machines, and background courses in general business and commercial law.

"BRAIN SAVERS" are popular in the business department when students are required to calculate difficult problems.

PRACTICE SETS afford bookkeeping students study in the practical application and theory of bookkeeping.

Physical Education Comes in Various Forms

STEPPING OFF to the rhythm of the drums, band members learn the meaning of physical exertion while marching.

WITH GRACEFUL LEAPS through the air, girls in the physical education classes compete in a volleyball game.

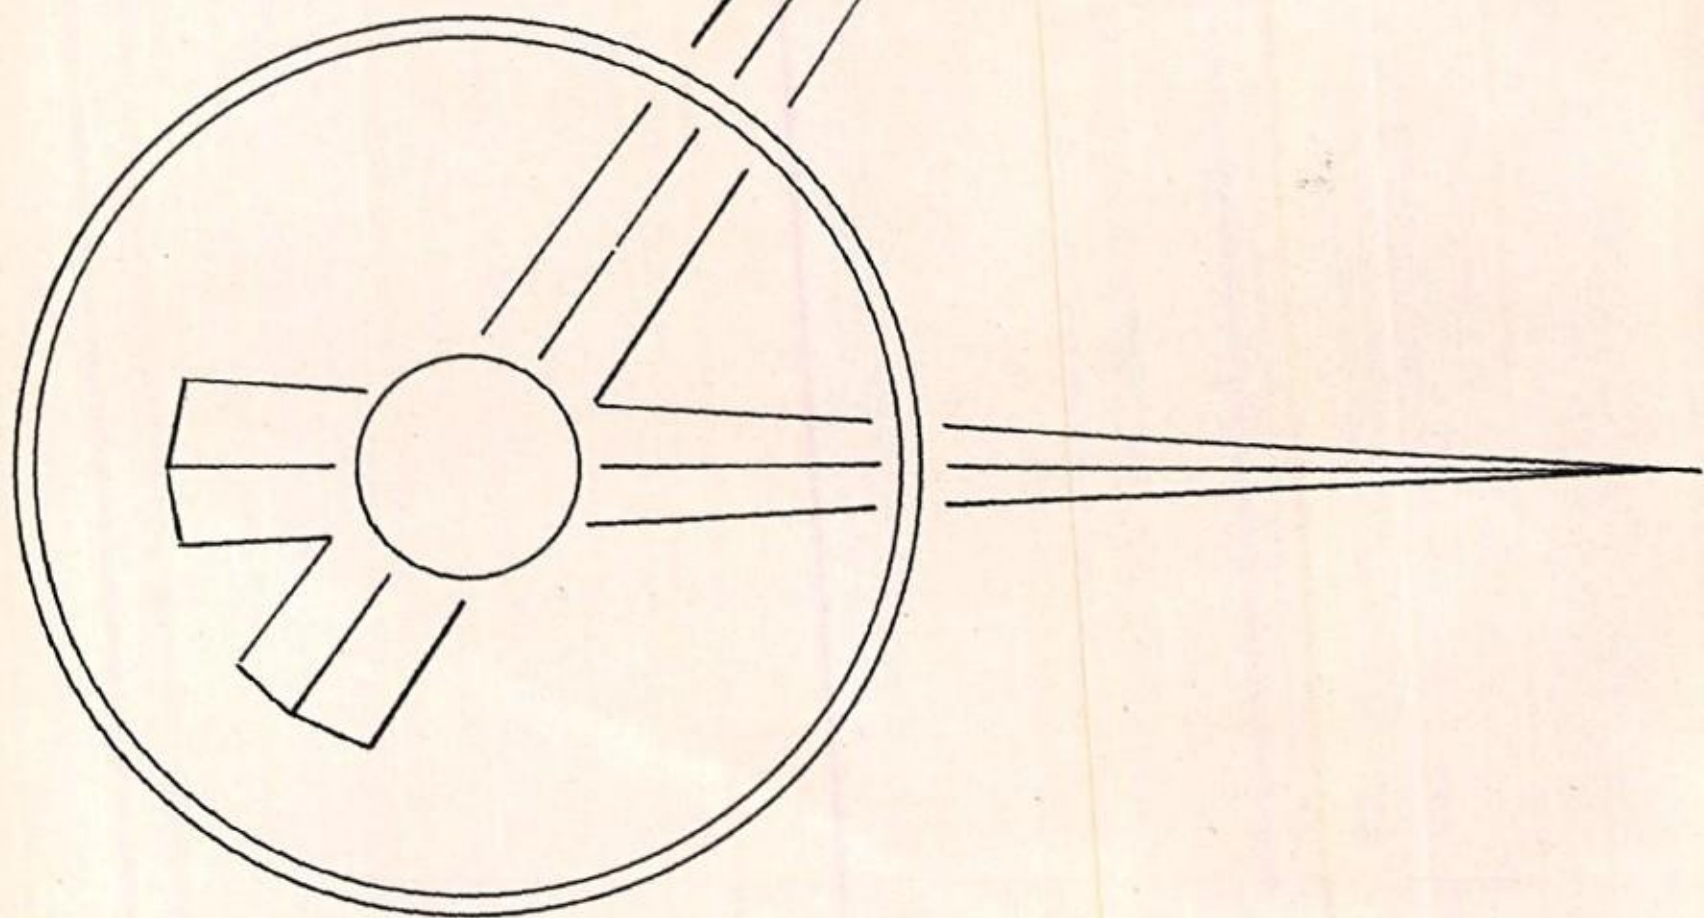

"JUMP BALL" is the decision of referee Dean Miller during a wild physical education basketball game.

Athletic stimulus for healthier minds and bodies is the goal of the boys and girls physical education department. Freshmen and sophomores enrolled in these courses can count increased sportsmanship, team spirit, and sports knowledge as benefits from their efforts.

Sports activity takes a variety of forms. Spring and fall find classes outdoors with emphasis on touch football and softball, while basketball, volleyball, and tumbling fill the winter months. Girls are given special training in dance forms, and boys receive valuable military drill instruction. Calisthenics are given special emphasis, and progress is checked periodically by physical fitness exams.

Supplementing these efforts is the health department, offering basic education in health for boys, and either health or home nursing for girls. These courses are required for graduation.

ACTIVITIES

Much may be done in those little shreds and patches of time, which every day produces, and which most men throw away, but which nevertheless will make at the end of it no small deduction from the life of man.

Crowning of Queen Highlights Holcad Dance

IN THE ATMOSPHERE of the enchanted Mystic Alpine, Anita Smith assumed the throne of 1964 Holcad Queen.

SENIOR COEDS—Vicki Thatcher, Betty Adamson, and Cathy Waggener—comprise this lovely court surrounding Her Royal Majesty Anita.

It's the big moment . . . silence reigns . . . then the announcement—"Miss Anita Smith chosen as 1964 Holcad Queen." Applause echoes through the Swiss Alps, setting of the "Mystic Alpine," which provided the theme and background for the Holcad Dance on January 25. Mayor Walter Stevens enacted the impressive coronation ceremony. The court was comprised of Betty Adamson, Vicki Thatcher, and Cathy Waggener. Anita triumphed as chosen by the purchasers of the Holcad on the basis of beauty, personality, friendliness, and high ideals.

Another feature of the dance was the awarding of the prizes to the top Holcad salesmen. These were earned by Pat Connerly and Dan Graves.

CROWNING THE QUEEN was the privilege of Mayor Walter Stevens as he crowned Anita Smith Holcad Queen.

Queen Sharon Captures Hearts of Grid Squad

HOMEcomings QUEEN Sharon Worrell dances with her escort, Fred Neuman, in the atmosphere of the "Football Carnival."

How would it feel to be a member of the royal circle? One could have asked Sharon Worrell who held the title of 1963 Homecoming Queen. Queen Sharon, a junior, began her reign on a crisp fall evening during the half-time ceremonies of the homecoming game with Columbus. Crowned by co-captains, Ted Lacy and Jim Sparks, Sharon was chosen by vote of the entire football team. Her royal highness was selected from a group of attractive and personable RHS Queen material which consisted of Karen Smiley, Susan Woods, and Sue Cox.

After the game, cares were forgotten and even the loss suffered to Columbus grew dim as everyone danced the evening away at the Homecoming Dance.

BEAUTY and personality were factors which led the football team to choose Sharon Worrell as Homecoming Queen.

"AS PRETTY as pictures," the members of the 1964 Homecoming Court—Karen Smiley - senior, Sue Cox - sophomore, and Sue Woods - freshman—pose with Queen Sharon Worrell.

Hi-Y Nourishes Mature Attitudes of Members

STATE HI-Y CHAPLAIN, Bill Smith, and District Representative, Mark Cherry, discuss the duties of their posts.

Christian Fellowship was the theme for Y-teen and Hi-Y members this year. With this in mind, the two groups worked actively to perform many services and to have many good times. Together, the groups worked on the TB Seal campaign and sponsored mixers. They also listened to speakers and sang along in a Christmas "singspiration" with Rev. R. T. Merriman of the Main Street Christian Church. Flowers and fruit were the order of FAD day when teachers were honored.

Y-teens led a colorful social year with two style shows, panels, the Mother-Daughter Banquet, a Christmas party for lower elementary girls, Stunt Night, and the Senior Breakfast. Potato chips were peddled by diligent Y-teen salesmen.

Hi-Y members had occupational talks, films, and helped the March of Dimes by "passing the cup" at basketball games.

Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. Gilbert Joyce were sponsors of Y-teens and Mr. Tom Jones was the sponsor of Hi-Y.

RHS Sends Both Debate Squads to State Finals

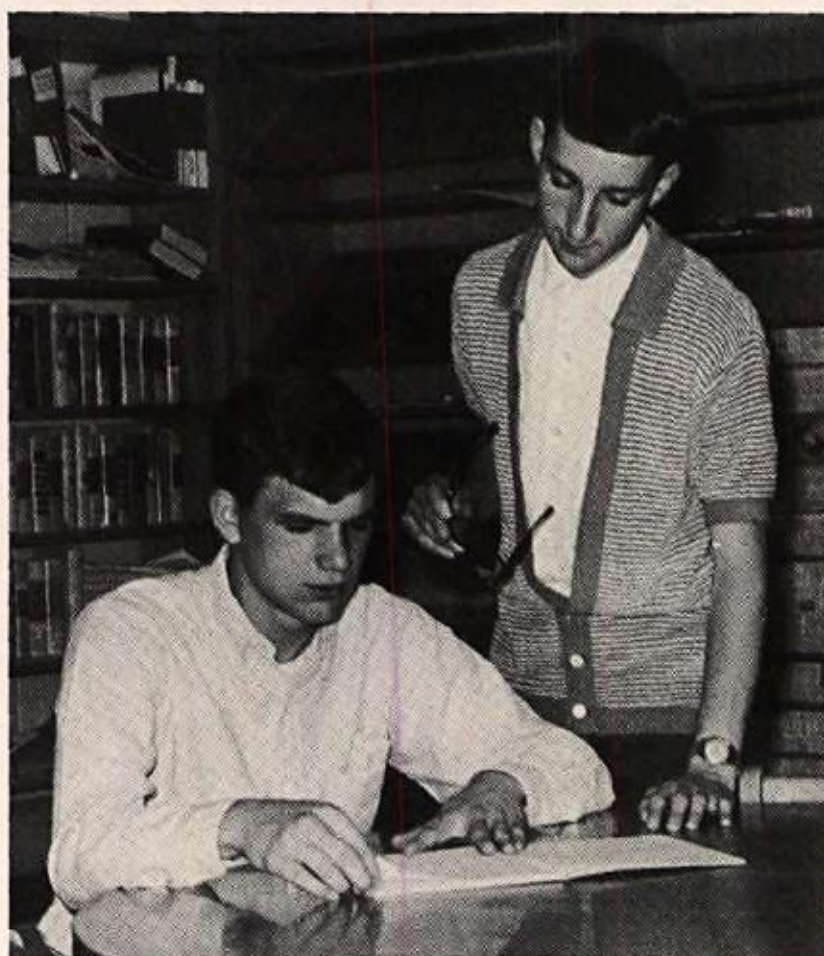

DEBATE CHAMPS, Wilkinson, Emerson, Mitchell, and Stevens, display their trophy from the Terre Haute Wiley Invitational.

As representatives of Rushville High School, students in the field of speech proved themselves and their school to be among the top. Lante Earnest and Bill Smith participated in the State Speech Finals in the fields of discussion and original oratory, respectively.

The varsity debate team, consisting of Wilkinson, Emerson, Stevens, and Mitchell continued its winning ways of the previous year, and advanced to the State Finals for the third consecutive year. Each of the three seniors on the team—Emerson, Stevens, and Wilkinson—has participated in the state finals twice and has in the last four years been responsible for building Rushville up to being one of the top debate powers in Indiana, while remaining one of the State's smallest debating schools. The debate team placed in all but two tournaments that it attended, bringing home a first place trophy, two seconds, and one third, while usually competing against twenty other teams—a truly extraordinary record.

Previous Ratings Set Goal for '64 Holcad

PLANNING THE STRATEGY for turning out the 1964 Holcad proves to be no easy task for Editor-in-chief—Rebecca Roller, Associate Editor—Judy Pell, and Junior Editors—Vicki Copple and Donna Norris.

"3 . . . 2 . . . 1 . . . 0 . . . Blastoff!" And the 1964 Holcad was launched into orbit with picture-taking, "dummy" planning, indexing, and occasionally, rampant frenzy.

Editor Rebecca Roller and Associate Editor Judy Pell oversaw the growth of the new yearbook. Next in command were hard-working Junior Editors Vicki Copple and Donna Norris. Under the new sponsorship of Mr. Vernon Fecher, the staff did their best to capture the essence of an entire school year between the covers of the '64 Holcad. Enlarged to a full 100 pages, this year's book has coverage on all phases of school life.

Cold weather slowed the Senior Holcad Drive to a crawl, but soon the class recovered to break the record with 675 sales. As a climax to the sales campaign the Holcad staff sponsored a dance in the "Mystic Alpine" where Holcad Queen Anita Smith reigned for the evening.

Using an overall theme of "Time," the Holcad staff worked in conjunction with other departments and clubs to form an accurate and lasting picture of RHS.

In the halls, the classrooms, and the playing fields and attending the social events, Rushlite reporters could always be found "covering" the Rushville High School world for the 1964 Rushlite. A staff of 67 students worked under Editor Mary Jo Lakin and Junior Editor Debra Fraley to produce this popular bi-monthly paper. "Are the Rushlites coming out today?" was a common mid-week cry as each of the 14 issues was eagerly anticipated and avidly read by the student body.

The activities of senior "Big Wheels," efficient coverage of the Roaring Lions and their trip to the semi-state and many other events that captured pupil interest appeared in the four page paper. Gossip, fashion, sports, student activities, laughs, and thought-provoking editorials were packed into every issue under the supervision of the sponsor, Mrs. Kappner.

Valuable Services Rendered by Student Aides

LIBRARIANS . . . FRONT ROW: Ellingwood, Shockley, May, Liggett, Douglass. ROW 2: Schmall, Conroy, Crawford, Holman.

No school would be complete without the help of three groups of students known as the librarians, projectionists, and pages. Collecting attendance slips, delivering messages from the office, helping in the clinic, and acting as all around "Girl Fridays" were the criteria of the pages. Librarians proved their worthiness by checking out books, filing magazines, and doing various other jobs connected with "librarying." With a continuous need of audio-visual materials, the projectionists proved invaluable to the curriculum at Rushville High School.

FFA Triggers Interest in Wonder of Growth

THE FFA Crop Judging Team—John McKay and Steve Hahn (seated), and Mike VanNatta and Richard Gordon (standing)—gains experience while winning the first place trophy.

"Old MacDonald's Farm" could never equal the plans of the Future Farmers of America. In proving this, these boys won the land, livestock, and crop judging contests this past year. They participated in the Parliamentary Procedure Contest, and executed several worthwhile projects.

Highlights of the year included the Parent-Son Banquet, Big Brother Night, and play by the FFA basketball team. Hoosier Farmer Degrees went to Mike Van Natta and Richard Gordon. Mike also won the Chapter Star Farmer Award, and Richard won the coveted De Kalb Award.

Club Plots Course Through 'Rome Adventure'

FRESHMAN SLAVES add that "special touch" to the bubbling fountain highlighting the Roman Banquet.

Rome rose and fell again before the eyes of the Latin Club members as they climaxed another year's activities. The group's leaders wrote a new Constitution and By-laws to modernize the club. Initiation of freshmen consisted of several ingenious skits. Films of the 1960 Olympics, the annual Roman Banquet, and a picnic completed this unique Roman year.

During its second year, the photo club was very active. Its purpose was to promote photography throughout RHS and to improve techniques. The club's twenty-seven members participated in various photography contests. They maintained the school darkroom for their use as a club as well as for individual members. Picture taking of couples at dances was a novel attraction, which provided the amateurs with valuable experience.

Excellent Concerts and

Under the expert supervision of Mr. Robert McGinnis, the Rushville High School Band participated in numerous activities not only around RHS but state-wide. This group, one hundred and twelve strong, brought home many honors for the band as a unit, as well as for individuals and various ensembles.

Locally they helped arouse team spirit by playing for all home football and basketball games. They appeared in the Halloween and Loyalty Day Parades, entertained with a spring concert in Memorial Gym, and provided music for the Commencement exercises.

The band also traveled to Indiana University for the annual IU Band Day. Members were able to see the IU-Cincinnati football game and took part in the half-time show. Throughout the year, they also participated in the District Solo and Ensemble Contest at Connersville, the State Solo and Ensemble Contest at Butler University, and the State Band Contest at Cambridge City. Select members participated in the Good Neighbor Festival at Franklin.

The seventy-seven voice choir, under the direction of Mr. Donald Myers, was an outstanding group. Part of the success of the choir was the result of the accompanists, Pamela Hughes and Carolyn Emerson, who did an excellent job. The choir presented the annual Christmas program and provided music for the baccalaureate services. This group joined about 900 other choir members from other schools in a choir festival in Hagerstown.

The popular Twelve Girls, accompanied by Avonelle Chance, spent a busy year entertaining audiences locally and out-of-town. Decked out in red velvet dresses, they sang joyfully and enthusiastically. In addition to singing in the Twelve Girls, Barbara Wedeking, Vicki Thatcher, and Sharon Martin formed a folk-singing trio called the Park Street Three.

Deserving credit for possibly the most successful athletic season in RHS history was a staff of seven well-trained, veteran coaches. Headed by athletic director James Gridley, the coaching corps guided their boys to team victory. Jack Brown received special recognition as Southeastern Indiana "Coach of the Year."

Spurred by ten peppy varsity, B-team, and freshman cheerleaders, RHS fans never lacked the roaring enthusiasm and spirit so essential to team success. A number of new routines were added, including the fever-pitched "Go . . . go . . . go!" chant, and Mark Cherry's debut as boy cheerleader added further novelty and zest to the yells.

"Unsung heroes" was a title that would well be applied to boys on the student manager and usher staffs. Although relatively unnoticed, these students helped to keep the athletic program running smoothly by performing a variety of necessary functions, ranging from first aid for bumps and bruises to protecting the basketball floor.

CHEERLEADERS Christy Ralstin, Jackie Matney, Mark Cherry, Linda Maple, and Martha Darnell are never without enthusiasm and school spirit as they cheer the mighty RHS Lions on to victory.

Homecoming Festivities Support Pigskin Team

"FOOTBALL CARNIVAL!" exclaims the poster signifying the theme of the 1963 Homecoming Dance.

Homecoming! A word packed with all the excitement of Fall, great enthusiasm, and the joy of greeting old friends. The spirits of all were high as the Columbus-Rushville game got under way. High school voices joined with alumni voices to cheer the RHS team to victory, but moans of disappointment rose from the stands as the Bulldogs downed the Lions, 27-6.

To take away the sting of defeat, the gay Football Carnival dance followed the game. Lovely Queen Sharon Worrell reigned over the penny-pitching, target games, plate-breaking, and carnival fun—a wonderful climax to a memorable evening.

ROCK-AND-ROLL, Homecoming style, provides the beat for energetic dancers at the Homecoming Football Carnival.

Three Red and Black Weeks Back Team's Hopes

A phenomenon!—a week consisting of fifteen days! Yes, Red and Black Week, 1964, lasted three weeks, due to the brilliant basketball played by the RHS Lions in the Sectional and Regional Tournament. School spirit, inspired by the cheerleaders and cheerblock committees, was shown by signs on the blackboards and the windows. The student council members from each class were in charge of the annual showcase competition, which was won by the sophomores. Two pep sessions were held to whip up the loyalty to a frantic pitch. The loyal RHS spirit was typified by Miss Red and Mr. Black—Nancy Dawson and Bill Hahn—who were crowned from a slate of daily winners, Diane Dearinger, Cary Gates, Beverly Lacy, and Kenny Saxon.

A large, loyal caravan, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, traveled to the Semi-State Tournament. Good sportsmanship helped to make it a wonderful year.

Backed by experienced Seniors, the Lions fought their way into second place in the South Central Conference, compiling a fine season record of six wins and two losses. A summation of the season's games would be as follows: Batesville was an easy victory with many reserves seeing action. Seymour was a great defensive game with Dave Goins kicking the winning point. Southport was a hard-fought game, but the opposition proved to be too much. RHS lost due to size in the Columbus game, but there was a fast attack in the early minutes. The game with Franklin was the best blocking and running games, while the contest with Connersville would best be described as a hot and cold game. The tilt with Cambridge City was the best offensive game, and Greensburg was RHS's best defensive game and the only shutout.

Ted Lacy and Jim Sparks were voted co-captains. Wills was the most improved back, and Petty was the most improved lineman. Connerly, L. Goins, Lacy, and Vance were selected to the All SCC Team; Buhler, Mosier, Sparks, Sturgeon, and Suttle were named as Honorable Mentions. Connerly made the SCC All Scholastic Team.

Graduation took its toll of 18 players from the team. Even so, the 1963 Lions had several underclassmen who were all first year lettermen, and they gained experience for the future team of 1964.

Underclassmen Experienced by Game Action

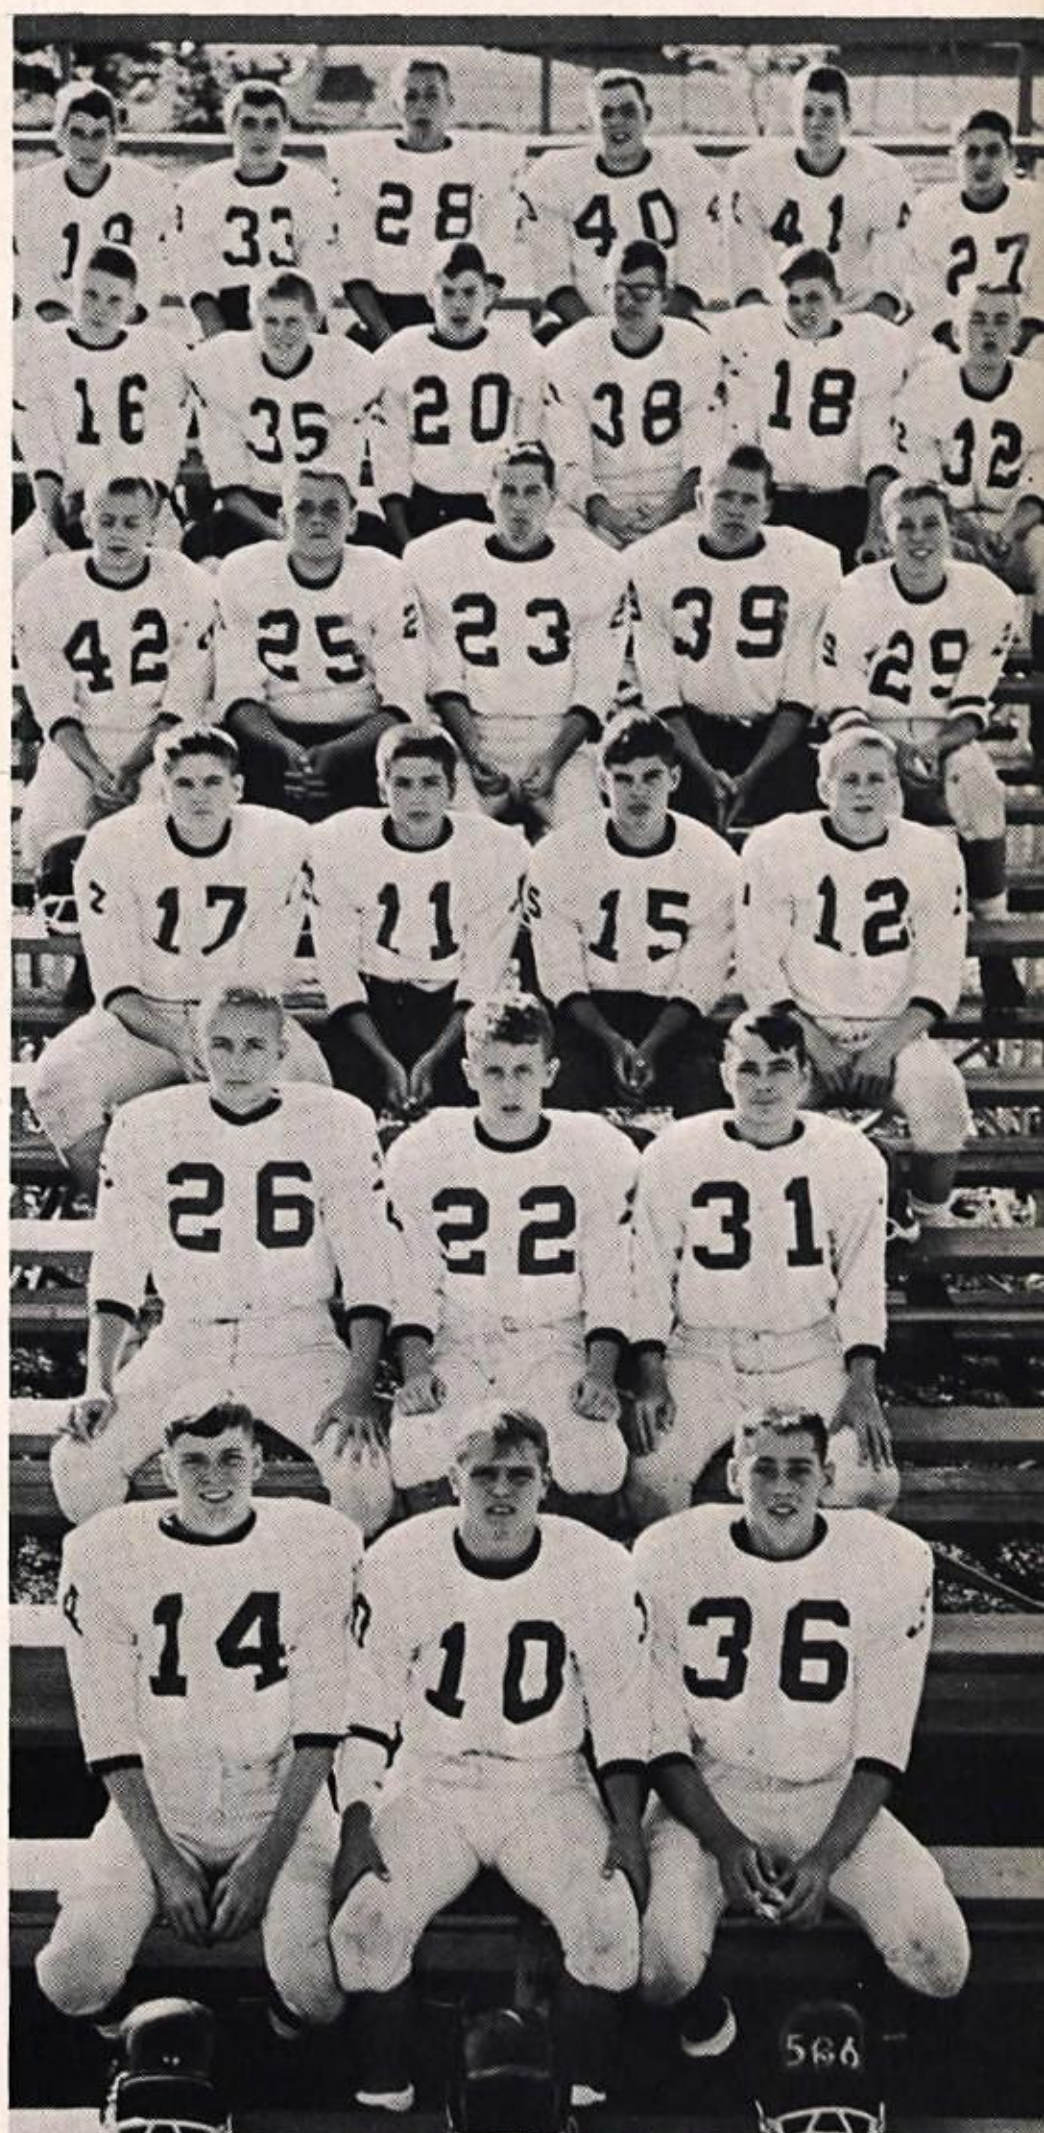

Richard Dragoo and Tom Shelton coached their Freshman and B-team football teams to a 2-2-1 and a 3-2 season record respectively. With exceptional size, the backs got tremendous blocking and the offensive plays often proved too much for the opponents. Examples of such advantages could be seen in the B-team 49-0 victory over Greensburg and a combined unit of Frosh and B-team with a 26-7 win over Batesville.

Probably the hardest games for both teams were with Greenfield in which both suffered losses. Among the outstanding players for Dragoo's and Shelton's teams were Beard, Connerly M. VanSickle, Earnest, Morris, Tressler, and Wills.

Golf, Tennis Squads Have Tame Season

The Lion Racketeers went through a rather unrewarding season last fall as they placed eighth in the SCC meet held at Connersville. Hampered by a lack of experience, Jim Forkner and Dennis Marshall both fell in the singles match. Joe Mauzy and Dan Tressler lost to the eventual doubles champions of Columbus. Greensburg captured the SCC title. A more extensive schedule has been planned for the coming tennis season.

The golf team found itself putting around without a single win, while the other sports enjoyed the laurels of success. Fall found them ceding all matches but one, in which they tied Greensburg. The Lions finished seventh out of nine teams in the South Central Conference. Luck was no better in the spring, as they continued their no-win streak, and ended the season placing seventh in the fourteen team Batesville Invitational.

Following the sporting trend for 1963-1964, the RHS Cross Country team was dominated by seniors. This fast moving team captured a commendable record of 19 straight victories, winning this year's SCC title for the first time in RHS history. Mike McLaughlin broke his own two mile record of 10:13 with a time of 10:09.

The team won fourth place in the Columbus Invitational with five men—Darnell, McLaughlin, Marshall, Mosley, and McCorkhill—placing in the top ten.

The Red and Black players set a new record of 23 victories and four defeats, as they finished second to Columbus in the South Central Conference.

The Lions were undefeated during the first half of the season, upsetting Southport in a double overtime thriller, 81-80. They walked through the New Year's Tournament with ease, but lost their finest game of the season at the hands of highly ranked Anderson, 86-78. Undefeated Columbus then took on the Lions, with both teams vying for the SCC title. Superior size won out, however, and the Bulldogs rode home to the Conference Championship 88-70. The Lions roared Offering some fine play, but with varied inconsistency, the freshmen directed by coach Earl VanSickle compiled a season record of 7-6. At times the Cubs were quite impressive, but being inexperienced they often lost out in the final minutes of play. They did, however, show prospects of being a well balanced basketball team. Mike Cherry, Jeff Abbott, and Rick Lemen turned in many fine performances under the boards, while Mike Beard and Tom Stamm showed good promise as guards. All in all, the freshmen showed bright aspects for future RHS basketball.

SUCCESS SECRET of RHS hurler, Perry Bennett, might be his great wind-up and follow-through.

Playing a rain-interrupted season, the baseball team finished with a fine 6-5 record. For the first time the SCC Championship was decided in a tourney, with RHS suffering a first game loss to Martinsville. Coach Mahin cited defense as the prime asset of the team, as they averaged less than two errors a game. While losing six players by graduation, the ball club will retain six returning lettermen.

Phil VanSickle received the annual Alumni R-Club Trophy as outstanding baseball player of the year. Brother Bill won the team's hitting trophy and was named Honorary Captain. Mike Petty was awarded the Hustler Trophy.

A word of advice . . . a bit of encouragement . . . a helping hand . . . indications of a teacher's concern for the students. To transfer knowledge . . . to instill the talent for original thought . . . to form for young minds a workable foundation . . . This is the goal of a Teacher. Today he is guiding those who will be leaders tomorrow. A time . . . an opportunity . . . to form a lasting friendship through knowledge.

Executive Corps Is Key to Top-Notch Schools

Just as a clock contains parts that are not always visible, yet are imperative for smooth, efficient running, so does Rushville High School depend on some individuals not found in the classroom for its smooth operation.

Superintendent Harold Dick and the three member school board are concerned chiefly with policy and budget making, and the recruitment of a teaching staff of the highest possible calibre.

With a base of operations located in the main hall, Principal Ben B. Earley and his assistant, James Gridley, play an integral part in keeping RHS "running like clock-work." These individuals coordinate the many facets of school life and act as the link in parent-teacher and student-instructor relationships. Some of their main responsibilities include curriculum development, counseling, and student scheduling. These people comprise the "mainspring" of RHS.

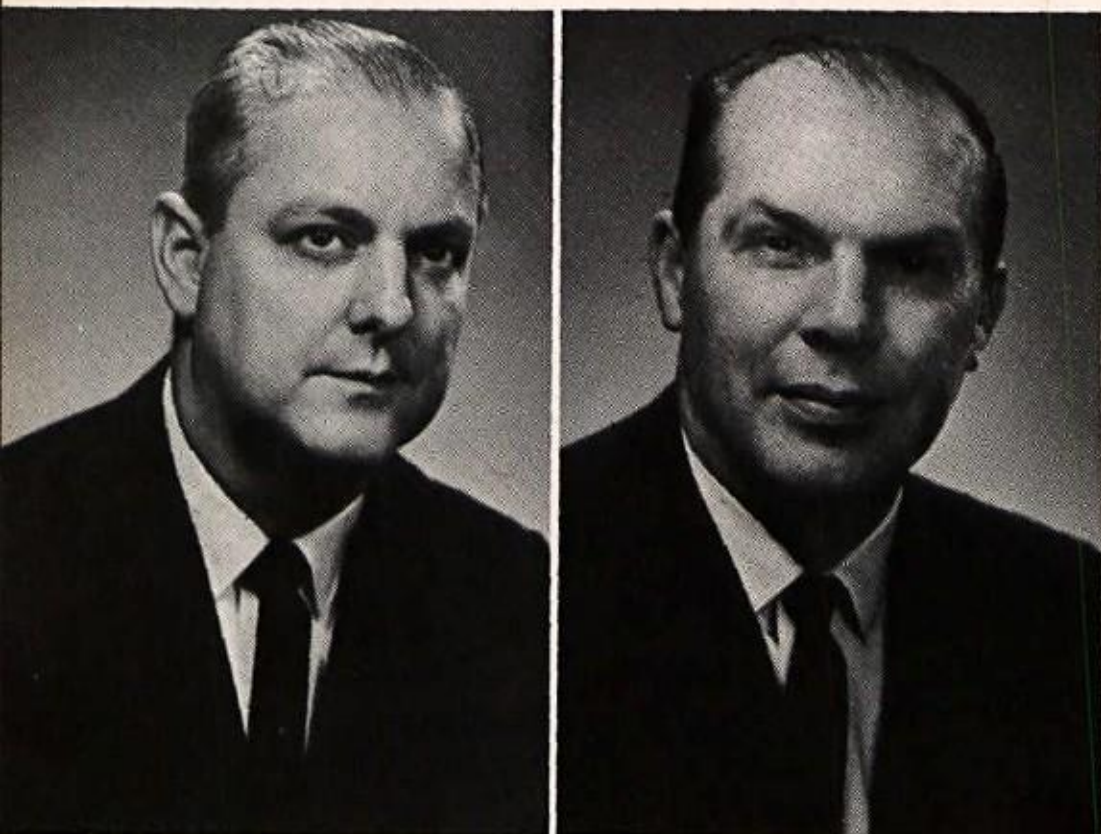

BEN EARLEY—B.A. Ball State Teachers College, M.A. Indiana University; principal; reading, sports fan.

JAMES GRIDLEY—B.S., M.S. Indiana University; assistant principal, athletic director, boys' counselor, tennis, golf, R-club sponsor; fishing.

MAKING A DECISION is one of the important responsibilities of School Board Members—Eugene VanSickle, President; Lawrence W. Smiley, Secretary; and Mrs. Cornelius Oster, Treasurer. Miss Mildred Stewart is the official bookkeeper of Rushville City Schools and for the Board of Education.

HAROLD DICK—B.S., M.A. Ball State Teachers College; superintendent of schools; fishing, gardening.

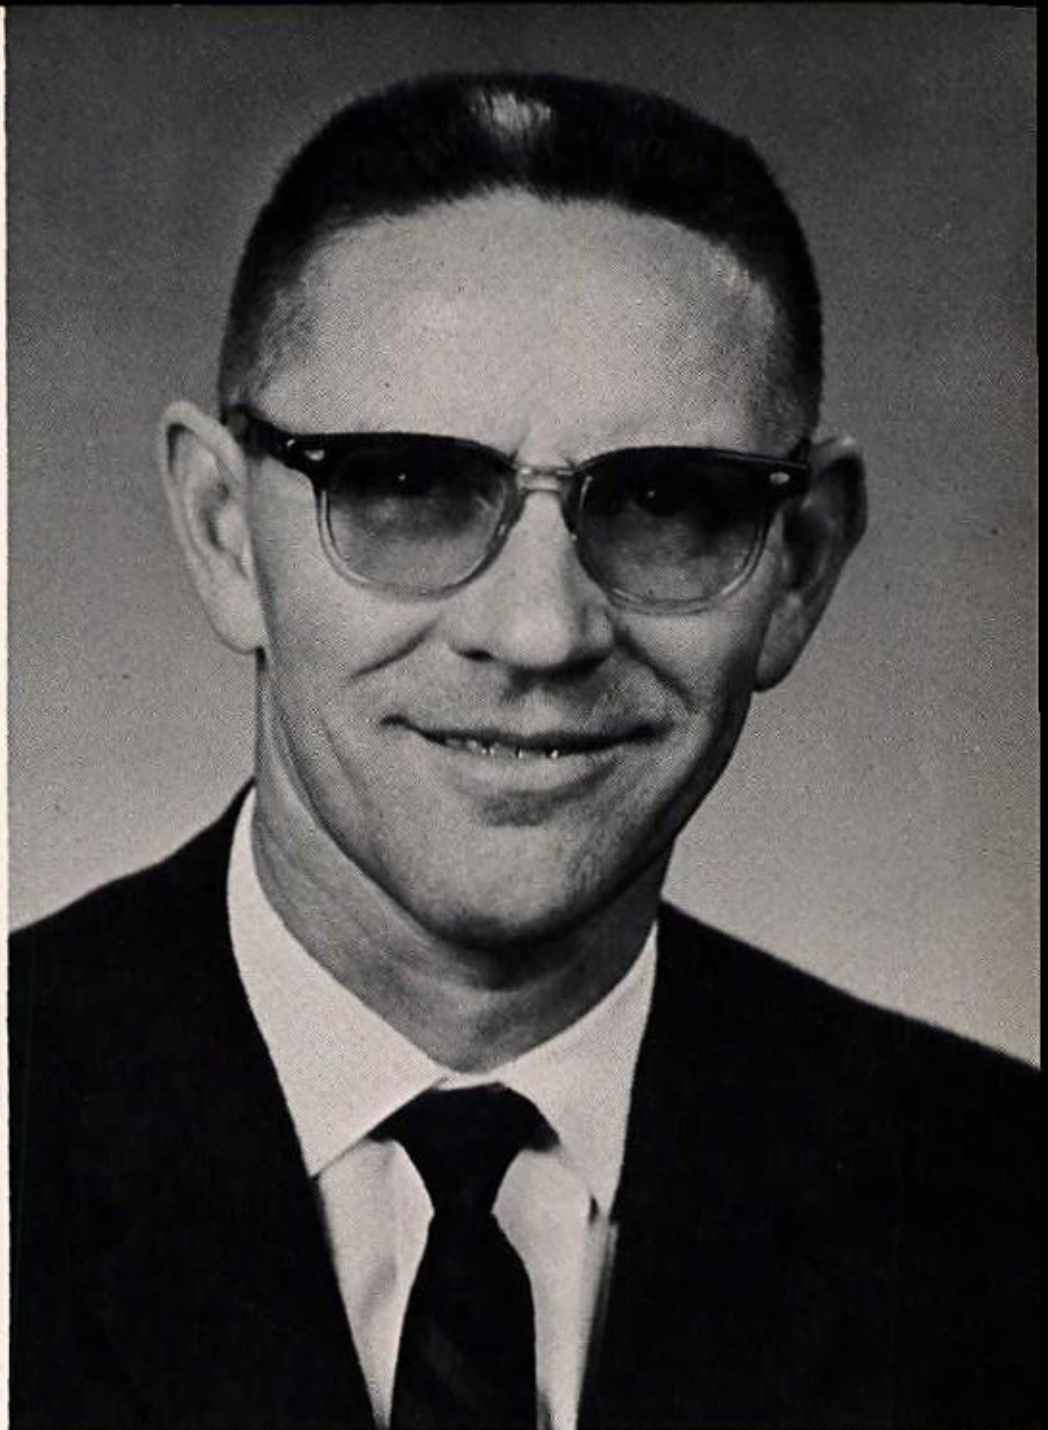

IN MEMORY OF RUSSELL SCHERMER

*Sunset and Evening Star,
And one clear call for me;
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.*

—Tennyson

The miracle of life itself is taken for granted in varying degrees by everyone; as a result, the loss of life always comes as an unexpected shock, an unwelcome intruder. The death of Russell Schermer brought to every RHS student a feeling of numb disbelief, followed by heartfelt grief and compassion. To some, his passing meant the loss of a conscientious and devoted teacher; others will remember him as a loyal and sincere friend, always willing to lend a helping hand. No one was without reason to grieve. Time has now dissolved the initial sorrow, but our deep love and respect for this man and the principles that guided his life will endure through, and be strengthened by, each passing year.

Varied Hobbies Add Spice to Teachers' Lives

"A time for learning" would be a partial definition of high school years. To the men and women of the school's faculty went the responsibility of guiding this learning and preparing students, insofar as they were able, for whatever future tasks would be attempted. These people dedicated themselves to seeing that RHS students received an education.

In addition to adding variety by lectures, frequent pop quizzes, and tests, the faculty served as sponsors for organizations and acted in numerous other capacities. Not content to let their own education cease, many continued to attend evening classes and summer sessions.

LARRY KELLY—B.S. Indiana University; history, speech, debate sponsor, Speech Club sponsor, senior play sponsor; enjoys the theatre and family most of all.

MADELINE KNIGHT—B.A., M.A. Indiana University; algebra; knitting and sewing for grandchildren, antiques.

Class Places Leadership in Capable Hands

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—John Mosley - vice president, Pat Connerly - treasurer, Barb Wedeking - secretary, and Larry Wilkinson - president—chart the course of the class's year.

Continuing to support its three year old reputation for being an unusually busy group, the Class of '64 displayed enthusiasm and ability in many areas. New records were set in Holcad and magazine sales. The first Senior play in three years, "George Washington Slept Here," drew many favorable comments. Plans for an enlarged Senior Week were begun early in the year to insure a successful conclusion to a fruitful four years.

Individual efforts by smaller groups in which Seniors participated also served to bring honors to the school. Gridiron and cage teams posted fine records. The Debate team quartet, three of whom were Seniors, posted a 29-9 record against very stiff competition.

A strong scholastic class was again led by Joe Emerson, who received recognition for placing in the top one-half per cent of all students in the country in the nation-wide SAT program.

Senior Week Climaxes Four Years of Hard Work

Friday, May 22, 149 seniors embarked on a strenuous senior week. First on the agenda was the annual class day when the prophecy was read and awards and scholarships were presented. That evening, juniors feted with the Junior-Senior Reception. Sunday was Baccalaureate followed by the reception at the Elks.

Monday began with scrapes and bruises as the seniors tested their roller skating abilities. A dance and catered party followed that evening. The next day included all day bowling, the signature party, and midnight movie—"Flight to Ashiya." Wednesday was the all-day party at Bill Smith's farm in Decatur County. Seniors entertained Thursday with the Senior-Faculty Smorgasbord and promenaded to a square dance rhythm that night.

Friday the seniors returned to school for grade cards. Climaxing everything was graduation, the Commencement Dance, and the popular all-night party.

NO LONGER STUDENTS OF RHS, these two couples return to enjoy the Commencement Dance as alumni.

THE CHOW LINE beckons hungry faculty members as they are feted by seniors at the Senior-Faculty Smorgasbord.

STAYING AWAKE is not difficult for these couples who are observing the festivities of the All-Night Party.

Brilliant Thespian Performances Spark Play

GREASE PAINT and other gooey concoctions were the bases of creating characters such as Actress Rena Leslie.

"CAN'T YOU SEE THE POSSIBILITIES, Annabelle?" pleads Newton Fuller after revealing that he has "bought this place."

Sensational! Professional! Hilarious! These were words used to describe the Kaufman and Hart comedy, "George Washington Slept Here" which was presented by the senior class. This Broadway success was the comical story of the Fullers—Newton, Annabelle, and their teenage daughter, Madge. This city-bred family was hypnotized into buying one of those waterless, windowless, almost roofless houses that once supposedly housed George Washington. Highlights of the play included a feud with a cantankerous neighbor; a battle of wits with their incorrigible nephew, and a rousing, satisfying, riotous house "razing" climax.

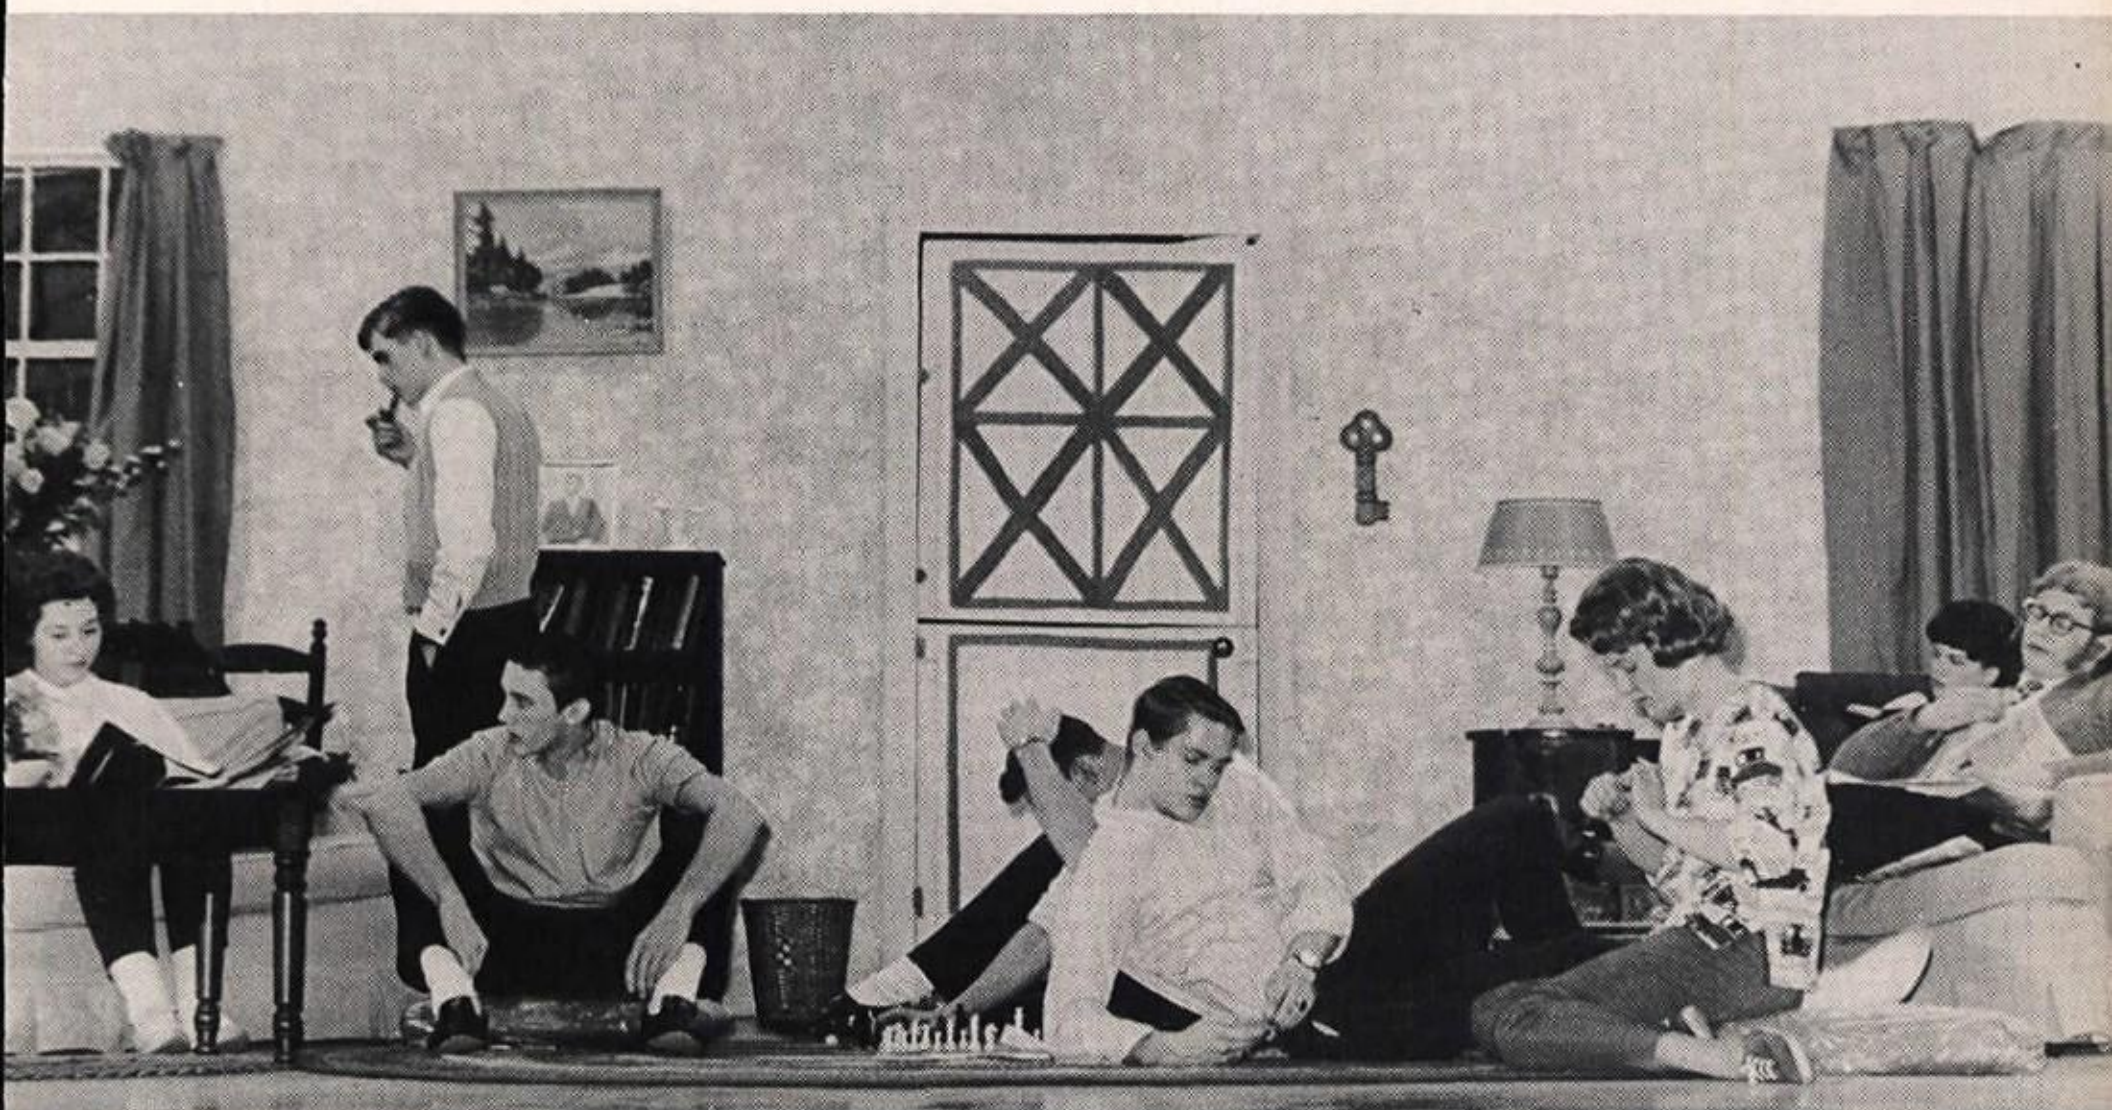

An industrious cast of twenty and their top boss, Larry Kelly, worked two months on the production. They sold over 1000 tickets for a two night record sell-out and served as their own crews on properties, scenery, costumes, and publicity.

Director Kelly was presented with an inscribed gold plaque and emblem from the hard-working thespians. It was respectfully signed, "The Kelly Klan."

"YOU'VE STRUCK MUD, Mr. Kimber?" exclaims Annabelle. "Why that's wonderful! Bring me a glass, will you?"

House 'Raising and Razing' Delights Audience

"LEAVING? Why Uncle Stanley, you'll do no such thing," exclaims Annabelle as she and Newton "butter him up."

A RAINY SUNDAY AFTERNOON in the house is all the Fullers need for a successful weekend with their guests—Sue Barrington, Newton Fuller, Tommy Hughes, Leggett Frazier, Steve Eldridge, Madge Fuller, Marian Wilcox, and Uncle Stanley.

COKEs, cake, and chatter are part of the happy relief of the play cast at a party after the last curtain.

Junior Class Entrusts Business to Officers

JUNIOR OFFICERS—Rusty Bane - vice president, Linda Wolf - treasurer, Carolyn Emerson - secretary, and Mort Carmichael - president—hold a conference to balance the budget.

The Junior Class found many new responsibilities resting on its shoulders, and lived up to them in a commendable manner. The class went to work early in the year on preparations for the Junior-Senior Reception. Traditional Hobo Day was given a new twist in the form of a car wash, which proved to be a successful addition to a profitable venture. Two years of popular stationery sales also augmented the class treasury. School clubs saw many Juniors in their ranks, many holding various offices.

Members of the Junior Class added much to football and basketball teams. Steve Suttle received an Honorable Mention in nominations for the S.C.C. All-Conference Football team. David Goins sparked both teams and was recognized as outstanding athlete in the class.

Juniors showed enthusiasm in the field of music, garnering the most First Place awards in solo and ensemble contests, and a strong representation in Twelve Girls.

Capable Officers Plan Sophomore Activities

RELAXING after an arduous session are sophomore officers: Dan Tressler - president, Sandy Hudson - secretary, Debbie Pea - treasurer, and Dave Schermer - vice president.

The Sophomore Class moved "out of the cellar" and up a step on the social ladder of RHS. Academically, they were subjected to such horrors as American Observer and Science and Math Weekly. The potential scientists were exposed to the intricacies of plant and animal life, and the words "higher math" took on an added meaning with the introduction of plane geometry. The class boasted a number of "brains" on each honor roll.

An enthusiasm for sports as spectators and participants was evident. Jim Trout and Danny Tressler saw varsity action on the Gridiron, while Ellis Moor proved a valuable asset to the varsity basketball team all season long.

Believing in saving "the best for the last," the sophomore class sponsored the final mixer of the year.

Executives Guide Class Through Initial Year

FRESHMAN OFFICERS—Marsha Maxwell - secretary, Marsha Mahin - treasurer, Bill Lloyd - president, and Cindy Higgs - vice president—choose colorful decorations for a dance.

September saw the annual phenomenon known to upperclassmen as "Little Green Monsters," constantly underfoot and jamming the halls. Upon obtaining membership in the RHS family, Frosh were informed of certain "facts of life." These included the taboo against walking on the mosaic in the front hall and the practice of acquiring respect for the status of the upperclassmen. Despite "uncrackable" combinations on lockers and false directions taken in search of classrooms, the necessary adjustment was made.

Rapidly "jumping into the swim of things," freshmen elected class officers, sought membership in Hi-Y and Y-Teens and GAA. Much vigor in the field of music was shown by the number of freshmen in the band and the large number of entrants in piano and instrumental contests. Clubs and organizations had their numbers enlarged by a record enrollment.

Frank Smith was selected as a delegate to the National Youth-Power Conference.

New classes, new people, and new experiences combined to make their first RHS year a memorable year.

PLANNING SCHEDULES was one of the main problems that Mrs. Miller met while counseling such freshmen as Mona Orme.

Finis . . .

Time as was measured by the calendar and clock ran out for the school year of 1963-64. However, if each person used his time wisely, he had the chance to grow in knowledge of the world around him. Many unanswered questions and problems have been solved and thus everyone was able to understand his existence more fully.

During the span of the year, RHS students lived with happiness, friendship, hope, and thought, and they took time to do the many things that make up one's life and add meaning to it. They fulfilled the promise of a year and discovered other roads and ways through life.

The time of departure came, and everyone left—perhaps to go out into the great school called life or perhaps to go on to formal schooling—going and living with memories of today and days gone by.
